

Press Release
TKC7035
3rd September, 2007

HIGHLAND TREAT - AUTUMN BREAKS ON LOCH NESS

Loch Ness is one of the world's most famous icons, but you can expect to find a lot more going on there than just Nessie hunting. An ideal base is the village of Fort Augustus at the southern tip of the loch, where you can take to the mysterious deep waters of Loch Ness by boat or try one of the many outdoor activities on offer in the area from kayaking and mountain biking to walking or golf on a nearby championship course.

The newly refurbished Lovat Arms in Fort Augustus, with the warm and friendly welcome you'd expect from a family run hotel, offers a high class of comfort in traditional Victorian surroundings complemented by natural décor and modern bedrooms equipped with the latest technology. The AA rosette restaurant sources local seasonal produce, and the menu changes accordingly.

AUTUMN OFFER:

From 1st September-30th November the Lovat Arms is offering a special rate of 3 nights for the price of 2 from £399 per room for dinner, bed and breakfast (£66.50 pppn).

Book on-line at www.lovatarms-hotel.com or call the hotel on 0845 450 1100.

ENDS

Photographs and further media information from Caroline Keith at the Keith consultancy on 01463 811000 or 07734 543 923.